

RICHARD ENGLISH, JR. COMMISSIONER, DISTRICT 5

TROUP COUNTY
BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

Commissioner English is the longest running Commissioner on the Troup County Board of Commissioners, as he has presently served for forty years. He graduated from Speight High School in Fort Gaines, Georgia and later attended West Georgia Technical College. He is a United States Army veteran and is currently self-employed as an independent contractor. He worked as a Building Manager in LaGrange for twenty-four years.

Mr. English and his wife, Cheris, have one daughter, Leslie, and three grandsons. In the past, he was a member of Association County Commissioners of Georgia (ACCG) Board of Managers, Community Action for Improvement (CAFI) and Keep Troup Beautiful. Throughout his many years of service to Troup County, he has earned countless awards and recognition. In 2001, The Community Action for Improvement Organization named its administrative facility after him to honor his dedication. He currently serves on the ACCG Black Caucus, LaGrange – Troup County Chamber of Commerce, Two Rivers RC&D Council and LaGrange Civic Improvement Association, among others.
